

CHAR LEARSON

Vice President, Integrated Loyalty Systems

The desire to pursue a career that always gave back to me was of the most importance, even from a very young age.

The thought that I would be spending the majority of my days at work, made it essential to not only love what I do for a living, but to effect change in a major way as well.

Coming from a family of caregivers exposed me to the love of caring for others, and the mechanics of healthcare, although complex, quickly became a career I could find happiness in.

The prevailing choice to work in healthcare centered around humanity and the desire to bridge the gap in providing optimal care for patients by leading caregivers in a positive way.

Empowering caregivers to tap into their full potential and to give with the fullness of their gifts became my mission and since the beginning, I have never wavered on my “why” for the reason I joined healthcare.
